Diamond Market - Snapshot

- △ Global supply of rough diamonds is expected to grow at a CAGR of 3%, which would grow at a slower pace thereafter due to scant supply and complex mining activity
- △ Demand for diamond jewellery is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4% for the next five years and would gradually increase going forward in 2022
- △ Slower supply increase compared to demand would result supply shortage in the coming decades
- △ Unlike other commodities, diamond remains one of the best alternatives for investors, which would help in portfolio diversification as well as wealth creation
- △ Diamond prices are likely to witness a positive momentum and beat inflation in the long run
- △ It normally takes 1 billion to 3.3 billion years (25% to 75% of the age of the Earth) to form a DIAMOND.
- △ If you GIFT a Diamond, you are gifting something which has taken Mother Earth more than 1 Billion years to make, and this gift can't be destroyed and hence your legacy can be passed on generations after generations!
- △ ICEX is the only exchange in the world to offer Diamond Derivatives
- △ India constitutes ~94% of the global diamond business.
